- How to book
- Friends of CVH

MARCH matters:

- * Water - we are delighted to report that we now have running water in the forge (kitchen/meeting room) and the pottery, with hand washing facilities being added to the toilet area upstairs. Most of the water is where it should be, but we still are working on solving the dampness from behind the building.
- * Electricity - now connected to the mains, the hall, forge and pottery all have lighting, heating and sockets!

APRIL activity:

- * The bar sub committee has formed and will be working out how best to manage the bar for both in-house public events and private bookings.
- * The kitchen area is gradually taking shape, and filling up with everything we need to cater for future events
- * A book-swap shelf is in place, so next time you come to the hall, remember to bring a book to swap if you wish. One at a time!

MAY Moments:

- * Pilates classes will start on Thursday May 20th. Due to COVID restrictions, places are limited to 5, so booking is vital
- * Cre8te HaVoC - knit and natter in Carrshield - will meet for coffee, cake and creativity Or just chatter Still limited to 6 people, so booking is required. 2pm every Wednesday from May 19th
- * Carrshield Village Hall is the new Polling Station, May 6th. Please respect the guidance provided to avoid transmission of COVID
- * Carrshield Bookworms (max. 6 people) will meet in the flesh for the first time on the morning of Tuesday 18th to share reading recommendations and reviews ... and coffee, of course. Please book. (LOL)
- * Table tennis club will commence as soon as the table arrives, and covid allows!

And next:

- * AGM June 5th - open to all Friends of CVH - more details next month
- * 3D felting (make your own highland cow!) workshop June 12th contact doraduck@icloud.com

What do you want?

Carrshield village Hall, arts and craft centre, is YOUR new community resource. The work to date has been driven by a small core of volunteers, with the support of AVEL. Now it is YOUR turn to say what YOU want to use the hall for, and to get involved. As you can see, there are already a few groups and events in the pipe line, we are having to start very low key due to COVID, but are determined to build up from this as soon as we are able to.

Please consider the following

Join the Friends; Join the management committee; Hire the hall for birthdays, weddings, christenings, etc.; Join in with the existing clubs; suggest more (Photography, art, whist drive, bridge club, jigsaw swap shop...); help with future events - charitable fund raising; rummage sales; youth groups; arts and crafts exhibitions; Christmas market; cookery demonstrations;... the list is endless, a very exciting opportunity.

As I write this, in April, it really is still snowing!!
